

Sharing Love of Place

Coming together

June 17, 2017

FOR HARD TIMES

8th Annual Global Earth Exchange

*Different people
Different outlooks
Different goals...*

When the places we love are threatened or damaged, we respond in different ways. Some work tirelessly to protect them. Some are so devastated they avoid these places as much as they can. Some educate. Some litigate. Some make art. Some write letters.

The Global Earth Exchange is the day when people around the world who care about their places come together to share their experiences, get to know the place as it is now, and make a gift of beauty for it.

We invite you to join us on Saturday, June 17, to honor a special place in your own region. Together we will:

- Share our love for these places
- Acknowledge our sorrow about what has happened to them
- Feel the inspiration of people all over the world who are observing this day in a wide variety of damaged places
- Strengthen the bonds of our community
- Support one another to continue our individual work
